

Minister's Advisory Committee on Labrador Transportation

2012-13 Annual Report

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

As Chair of the Minister's Advisory Committee on Labrador Transportation, it is my pleasure to present the committee's 2012-13 Annual Report. This report was prepared in accordance with the Transparency and Accountability Act and provides an overview of the committee's structure, activities, participants, and accomplishments during this past fiscal year. This report was prepared under my direction and I, along with my fellow committee members, am accountable for the results contained herein.

The Department of Transportation and Works is primarily responsible for core commitments related to transportation in Labrador. In 2012-13, the department awarded the last two contracts valued at over $65 million to complete paving of Phase I of the Trans Labrador Highway from Labrador West to Happy Valley-Goose Bay. More than $250 million has been spent on Phase I of the Trans Labrador Highway, which represents one of the largest and most significant infrastructure projects in the province's history.

As part of its mandate, the committee contributes to a collaborative approach to addressing the transportation needs of residents, stakeholders and businesses in Labrador. On behalf of the committee, I would like to reaffirm our commitment to this mandate and express our enthusiasm for working together with the public to improve transportation in Labrador.

Sincerely,

Minister of Transportation and Works

2012-13 RESULTS

The Minister's Advisory Committee on Labrador Transportation was unable to convene a face-to-face meeting in the 2012-13 fiscal year due to scheduling conflicts; however, the committee did meet in February 2012 and again in April 2013. The Minister of Transportation and Works, as Chair of the committee, has also contacted committee members directly throughout the year for the provision of advice on matters related to their specific regions. These matters include the future of the Trans Labrador Highway, Labrador marine services, and air transportation. Through these discussions, the committee continues to advance the transportation needs of Labradorians to help shape future initiatives that will support long-term social and economic development for the people of Labrador.
